Acrylic Paint Assorted Colour Pack of 10

Scola acrylic is a highly versatile water-based acrylic paint made using only pure acrylic resin. It is easy to use and free-flowing, with strong colours that dry to a glossy and flexible finish. It retains brush strokes and basic colours can be mixed and blended. Its thick, creamy consistency allows easy use of a palette knife for impasto work.

Scola acrylic paint can be thinned down for water colour techniques, staining and dry brush work. It is suitable for use on paper, card, canvas, ceramic and wood that doesn't contain wax or oil. All colours are intermixable and can be used straight from the bottle or diluted with water. Scola acrylic acts as an adhesive and also makes a good surface for drawing on with graphite and oil pastels.

- Non-toxic, safe for children
- Dries quickly to a glossy finish that remains flexible and is non-yellowing
- Good open time

- Suitable for use on paper, card, canvas, ceramic and wood
- Ideal for mixed media and collage projects.
- All colours are intermixable
- Can be used straight from the bottle or diluted with water
- Supplied as a pack of 10x 500ml bottles
- Scola type ACR500/10/A

Set includes the following colours: Mid green, mid yellow, ultramarine blue, scarlet red, magenta, lemon, cyan blue, titanium white, burnt sienna and carbon black.

DALER  ROWNEY

System 3 Textile Screen Printing Medium

This System 3 textile screen printing medium from Daler Rowney enables you to use your screen printing equipment again and again.

The medium slows down the drying of acrylic colour on the screen and reduces the risk of screen blocking, making it easier to wash out with soap and water. System 3 acrylic colours retain density of colour even after mixing with the medium.

- Medium can be thinned with water
- Substantial covering power on fabric, paper, card and board
- High light fastness
- Good value for money
- Supplied in pots of 5 litres

Modelling Materials

Air Hardening Air Drying Clay - Terracotta & Stone

Scola Air-Hardening Clay has all the qualities of traditional clay except that it doesn't require firing, making it ideal for younger and less experienced modellers.

Drying time will obviously vary according to the thickness and size of the model. Incomplete models can be kept workable under a damp cloth so that modelling can be spread over more than one session.

More advanced potters can also use this versatile and economical clay as it can be fired if required. Finished models can be coated in PVA glue and decorated with acrylic paint.

- A natural product, extracted locally in Staffordshire and Shropshire

- Available in Stone or Terracotta colour
- Dries in air
- No need for firing
- Nylon fibre reinforced
- Low shrinkage
- Can be decorated with almost any paint
- Can be coated with PVA or varnish for a glossy finish
- Dried pieces can be reconstituted by covering with a damp cloth overnight
- Wheat- and gluten-free

Newclay Air-Drying Modelling Clay

Newclay Air-Hardening Clay has all the qualities of traditional clay except that it doesn't require firing, making it ideal for younger or less experienced modellers. However it's also perfect for adults as well, because it can be kiln-fired with exceptional results if desired.

Newclay is characterised by being non-sticky and has low shrinkage during drying. It is malleable and can be used with professional pottery tools. It air dries without the need for heating and, as it is nylon reinforced, it doesn't go brittle.

Drying times vary according to the thickness and size of the model. Incomplete models can be kept workable under a damp cloth so that modelling can be spread over more than one session. Finished models can be coated in PVA glue and decorated with acrylic paint.

- Colour: off-white/light grey - exact colour of clay supplied may vary
- Dries in air
- No need for firing but can be kiln fired if required
- Nylon fibre reinforced
- Low shrinkage
- Can be coated with PVA glue
- Can be decorated with acrylic paints once dry
- Please refer to the technical data sheet for more details

System 3 Screen Printing Medium

Daler-Rowney System 3 Screen Printing Medium enables you to use your screen printing equipment again and again. The medium slows down the drying of acrylic colour on the screen and reduces the risk of screen blocking, making it easier to wash out with soap and water. The medium can be thinned with water.

System 3 acrylic colours retain density of colour even after mixing with medium and substantial covering power can be achieved on fabric, paper, card and board.

Polymer Blocks

This range of polymer printing blocks are safer and easier to carve than the traditional lino blocks. Unlike linoleum, the polymer blocks do not crumble or distort under printing pressure, and due to their more robust nature allow for the creation of large pieces. Sharp lines can be cut for high definition prints giving clean edges, and texture can be added with a variety of mediums. Available in a variety of sizes, all the printing blocks are approximately 3mm thick.

Lino printing is a simple process and as a result is it widely used in schools; it is a great way to introduce children to the art of printmaking.
